Confirmed speakers:

Prof Bryan McIver, Endocrinologist, Moffitt Cancer Centre, USA

Dr Sarah Johnson, Pathologist & UKEPS President, Newcastle

Prof K Chatterjee, Professor of Endocrinology & BTA President, Cambridge

Prof Chris McCabe, Professor of Molecular Endocrinology, University of Birmingham

Dr Steve Colley, Consultant Radiologist, Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Birmingham

Prof Dae Kim, ENT Surgeon, St George's Hospital

Dr David Poller, Pathologist, Portsmouth

Dr Jonathan Wadsley, Clinical Oncologist, Sheffield

Dr C Moran, Endocrinologist, Cambridge

Audience

This conference is aimed at medical and nursing professionals who investigate and manage thyroid nodules and cancer, including oncologists, endocrinologists, ENT and endocrine surgeons, radiologists, pathologists and specialist nurses. Trainees from all specialities are welcome.

Content

The topics of the talks have been chosen to highlight areas of uncertainty in thyroid nodule and cancer practice in the UK, and will be delivered by experts in the field. Topics will cover the path from diagnosis to treatment; including a review of pros and cons of various radiological classification systems for thyroid nodules, molecular testing of thyroid nodules, stratification of pathological risk, surgical management of low risk DTC and surveillance strategy of papillary microcarcinoma.

A key objective for the meeting is to identify topics for the design of nationwide, collaborative research studies to address the unmet needs that have been highlighted from the meeting. These will be discussed at a half day workshop on Saturday – all who might be interested in contributing to such studies are welcome to attend the workshop. CPD points have been applied for.

Abstract Submissions

Abstracts on relevant topics from any of the specialties attending are invited for submission and will be considered for oral or poster presentation. Please email your abstract (no more than 300 words) to the organiser, Dr Carla Moran (cm682@medschl.cam.ac.uk), no later than 10th February 2019.
