CODHy Young Investigators presents Controversial Cases

We are delighted to announce a special opportunity to young investigators under the age of 40. A session dedicated to Young Investigators will be held during the 7th World CODHy Congress on April 11-13, 2019 in Sorrento, Italy.

Fifteen young investigators will be selected to present a controversial case and will receive complimentary registration to the Congress subject to the review of the Scientific Committee. The best five Young Investigators with the greatest impact will be awarded with a prize of €500.

Topic: Controversial studies focusing on Diabetes, Obesity or Hypertension.

Criteria for submission: Participants must be under the age of 40. Proof of age must be sent to the Secretariat (identification document with photograph).

How to submit: Please submit your important scientific insights into controversies to consensus in Diabetes, Obesity or Hypertension research by sending a 250 word document on your controversial case by email to the Congress Secretariat.

Review process: All submissions will be reviewed and assessed based on scientific content and impact. The Scientific Review Committee reserves the right to decide on the status of submission.

The deadline for submission is
January 15, 2019
